

LIGHTHOUSE

PSYCHOLOGY
GROUP

Assistant Educational Psychologist

September 2023

Job Opportunity

We are hiring a team of motivated and ambitious Assistant Educational Psychologists (AEPs).

AEPs will deliver individual and group evidence-based interventions to promote the learning, social skills, emotional development and wellbeing of CYP, carry out screening assessments and support the application, implementation and dissemination of psychological research and theory in schools.

Location

In schools based in London/Kent/Peterborough (exact locations TBC)

Commitment

At least one full academic year starting in September 2023 for a minimum of 37.5 hours per week

Salary

£19,000 - £21,000

Support and Criteria

Training and Supervision

To support AEPs to deliver high quality support and engage in professional development they will access a comprehensive induction and training programme as well as regular supervision from our team of experienced Educational Psychologists.

Core Criteria

First Class or 2.1 Honours Degree in Psychology, or Masters Degree in Psychology

Motivated to work in schools and support the development of CYP

Interested in pursuing a career in Educational Psychology

Email us to learn more

info@lighthousepsychologytraining.com

Hold a valid DBS