The NHS and health issues remain a key national election issue and are of particular concern here in East Kent.

CHSS are hosting a health policy debate prior to the 2017 General Election to hear more about the parties' policies in this important area.

Question your local candidates

All of the main local parties have confirmed that they will be sending their Kent parliamentary candidates to take public questions from the floor and inform the audience what their policy plans could mean for the future of our health and social care.

The following parliamentary candidates have confirmed their attendance:

- Sir Julian Brazier, Conservative Party
- Rosie Duffield, Labour Party
- James Flanagan, Liberal Democrats
- Henry Stanton, Green Party

CHSS warmly invites you to this free event - no booking necessary. Map and directions overleaf.
