

Volunteers Needed

Scientists at the University of Kent are working with world leading professionals to improve the diagnosis and management of male infertility

Infertility affects approximately 1 in every 12 men worldwide.

Despite this, men have been largely neglected in terms of research, diagnosis, and treatment. Your semen sample can help us close this research gap!

ALL VOLUNTEERS WILL RECEIVE A £20 AMAZON VOUCHER IN COMPENSATION FOR TIME SPENT

If you're interested in learning more about our research, please contact:

andrologyresearch@kent.ac.uk

School of Biosciences,
University of Kent

To find out more information:

