ATHENA SWAN EVENT /
WHAT DOES ATHENA SWAN MEAN TO US AT KENT?

Wednesday 14 September, 9.30-15.30
Grimond Foyer and Lecture Theatre 1

The Vice-Chancellor, Professor Dame Julia Goodfellow will open the event at 10am and be followed by Faculty plenary sessions by:

• The Dean of Social Sciences, John Wightman
• The Dean of Humanities, Professor Simon Kirchin
• The Faculty Director of Student Experience for Sciences, Dr Pauline Phelan

A networking lunch will be provided and will proceed the afternoon session of practical workshops. These are designed to inspire thinking on:

• Content for your Bronze submission
• How to set up a self-assessment team
• Overcoming barriers to Athena SWAN
• Inclusive job design and selection
• How to move from Bronze to Silver
• Writing a SMART action plan

All staff are welcome to attend, particularly those from schools either new to Athena SWAN or who have already achieved bronze awards.
