

Journalism BA and MA Centre for Journalism

Welcome information and timetable

Welcome from Head of School Ian Reeves

You are about to embark on one of the most exciting journeys of your life, and the team here at the Centre for Journalism are delighted that you're starting it with us. We're a small and friendly team, and we'll get to know you all very well over the course of your studies here at Medway. We're all based on the first floor of the Gillingham Building, so if you have any questions once you're on campus, don't be shy to put your head around the door and ask us anything.

As you'll see from the timetable, there's plenty going on during Welcome Week and we'll look forward to putting faces to all your names then.

General info about the university
