IT and internet access on campus
To get online, visitors staying on campus or attending a conference can obtain a Kent IT account. This enables you to connect your own computer to the internet from a campus bedroom, or to use the Wireless Service in any wireless zone on campus (most communal areas).

Conference visitors may already have an account, so check with your conference organiser. Otherwise you can buy a Kent IT account from Reception or the Welcome Desk in the Templeman Library (see map).

Visitors to the Templeman Library
You are welcome to use the Templeman Library's collections for reference purposes (see map). A small range of online resources are available to you on a dedicated PC (booking required at the IT & Library Support Desk).

You can apply to become an external borrower (paid membership), which allows you to borrow 8 books for up to four weeks at a time. For more information and pricing see: www.kent.ac.uk/library/visitors/external.html

Sporting and leisure activities
Visit the Sports Centre for fitness suite, squash, tennis and much more. Special rates available from £5 a day.

Gulbenkian special offer
See films at the Gulbenkian for just £5!
Offer only available on main programme, not including live and recorded transmission or special one off screenings.

Finding your way around the campus

Dear Guest

Along with all the staff of Kent Hospitality, I would like to extend a very warm welcome to you and hope that you have a truly memorable stay with us.

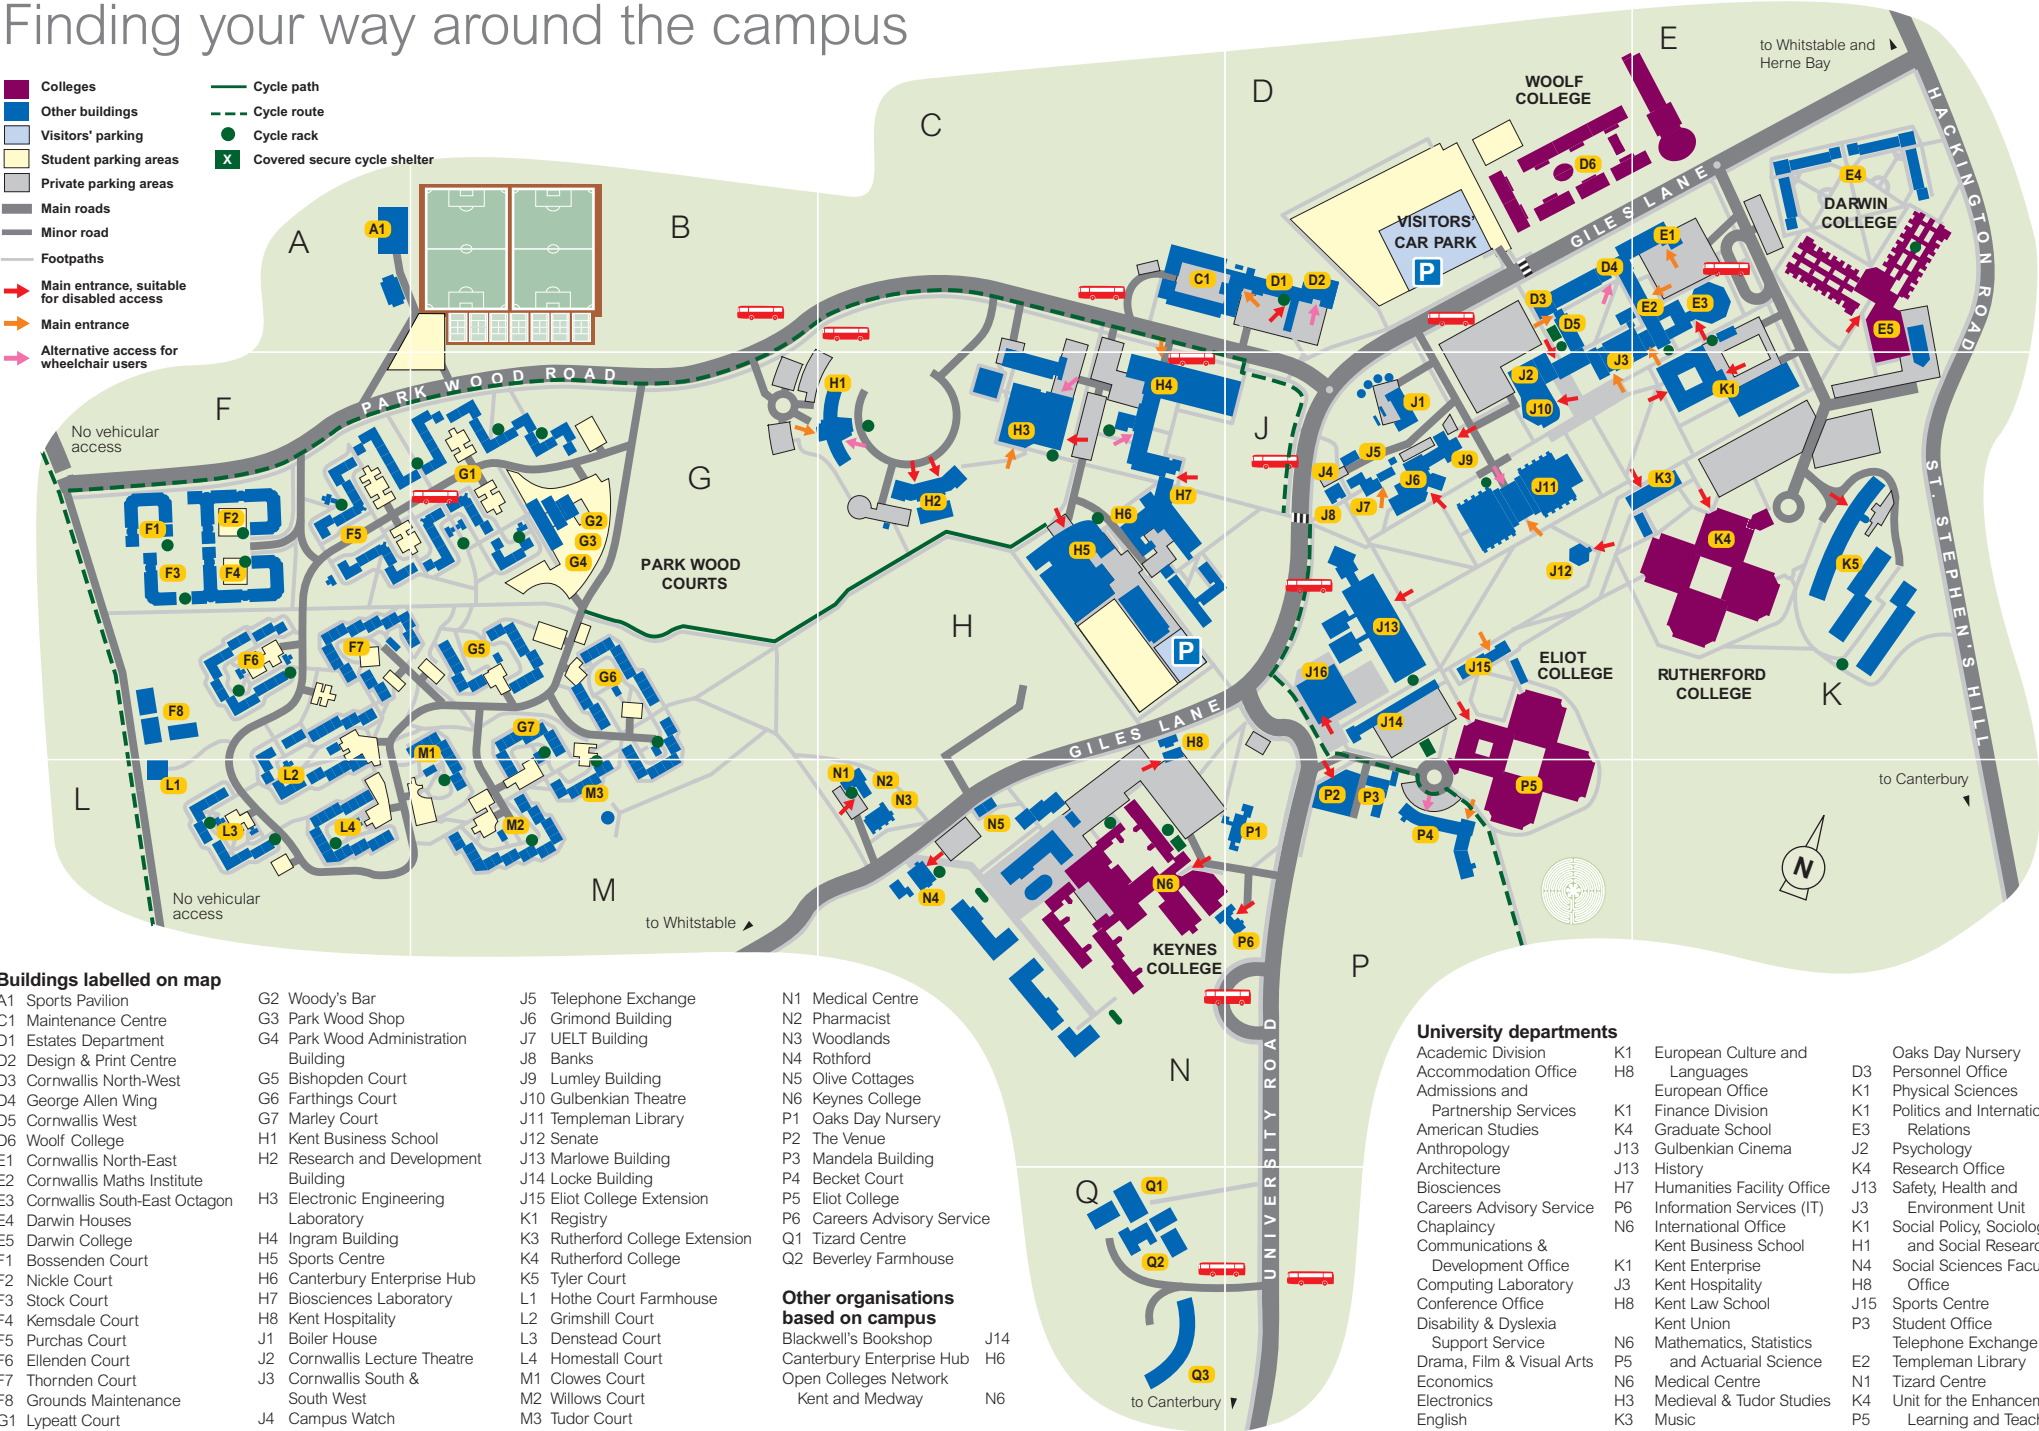

The University of Kent campus is the ideal location to enjoy the tranquillity of the Kent countryside. In contrast to this, the campus overlooks the magnificent, bustling city of Canterbury which is steeped in history and culture. With its large open spaces, the campus is a haven for wildlife and you will find that you are sharing it with ducks, rabbits, squirrels and rare birds! Staying at the University will really give you the chance to experience the best of both worlds.

This guide aims to provide all the information that will help to make your stay as comfortable and enjoyable as possible. However, if there are any questions we have not answered, our receptionists look forward to assisting you with any queries you may have.

With very best wishes

Kevin Stuckey

Visit Canterbury

You may want to take the opportunity to visit the city of Canterbury.

There is a regular bus service from the campus into the city centre at a cost of £2.50 return.

Monday-Sunday timetable: A frequent bus service runs from Darwin College and Park Wood stopping en route at Keynes College.

Timetables are available at all reception areas.

Car parking in Canterbury, particularly on a Saturday, can be difficult so we would suggest that you leave your car at the University and travel by bus to the City centre.
