

University of Kent Chamber Choir and Cecilian Choir

Friday 26 March 2010, 7.30pm
St. Vincent's Church, Littlebourne

|                                       |   |   |
|---------------------------------------|---|---|
| Heinrich Schütz(1585-1672)        | A German Magnificat                        | Chamber Choir   |
| Anton Bruckner(1824-1989)         | Os Iusti                                   | Chamber Choir   |
| Antonio Vivaldi(1678-1741)        | Gloria                                     | Cecilian Choirsoloists: Amy Clarke, MiriamTownsend, Jo Pearsall,Sophie Meikle |
| Interval                       |   |   |
| Howard Skempton(b.1947)           | Ave Virgo sanctissimaLocus Iste | Cecilian Choir  |
| Antonin Tučapský(b.1928)          | Five Lenten Motets                         | Chamber Choir   |
| Eric Whitacre(b. 1970)            | Lux Aurumque                               | Chamber Choir   |
| Ralph Vaughan Williams(1872-1958) | Three Folk Songs                           | Chamber Choirsoloist: Charles Green, BenTomlin                                    |

Conductors AMY CLARKE, DANIEL HARDING
Organist JONATHAN YIP

Amy Clarke is a third-year Drama student and has been actively involved in music since starting at Kent in 2007. She sang with the Chamber Choir for two years before becoming conductor. She has appeared as a soloist in a number of University concerts and recitals, and is also a violinist with the University Symphony Orchestra.

Daniel Harding is the Deputy Director of Music at the University. He is a conductor, accompanist and repetiteur, and also set up the University's Jazz @ 5 series. He founded the Cecilian Choir in October last year as a small choir for students, University staff and alumni.

Jonathan Yip is a sixth-form pupil at The King's School, Canterbury, and this year has acted as repetiteur for the University Chamber Choir.

The University of Kent has a flourishing programme of music, and students of all subjects have the opportunity to get involved in the wide-ranging programme of extra-curricular music activities. For further information about Music at the University of Kent, contact Susan Wanless, Director of Music, on 01227 823305 (email S.J.Wanless@kent.ac.uk), or visit the University of Kent Music website at www.kent.ac.uk/music

Wine and nibbles (included in the ticket price) will be available after the concert at the back of the church.