

Gulbenkian
Arts Centre

University of Kent

SHOW AND PLAY FOR CHILDREN IN CARE.

14:00-17:00 Saturday 4 March 2023, Canterbury campus

This free event is for children in care aged 5-11 years old and their foster family to visit the University of Kent for a fun and interactive day out. You will have the chance to see Belongings, a Tangled Feet and Rowan Tree co-production about how we all need somewhere to belong and someone to belong to. Inspired by working with young people in Kent who don't live with their birth parents, Belongings is the story of finding your feet, finding your playmates and imagining a new future. Told with Tangled Feet's unique blend of image, physicality and innovative stage design, this is a show for anyone aged 5 and up who is looking to find out where they fit in.

Along with seeing the show, you then will work with Rowan Tree drama therapists for a creative workshop inspired by the themes of Belongings. The workshop will also incorporate a Q&A session with the cast, which family/carers will be invited to participate in.

If you have any questions, please contact outreach@kent.ac.uk

Book now ↓

Closing date for booking
Friday 3 March.

