If you are interested in applying for a WCSA Young Scholars and Activists Fellowship Program (YSAF) grant, please click here. Its intent is to support and encourage scholars, activists, and organizers early in their careers whose work has the potential for advancing Working-Class Studies as a field, and to help defray some costs in attending the WCSA Conference.

- Early career status is defined as being a graduate student, in the first year or two of a post-graduation academic job, or in the first year or two of a job as an activist or organizer.
- Awardees will be chosen each year from among those whose conference proposals are accepted for presentation at the Working-Class Studies Association conference.
- Conference attendance is encouraged to receive the fellowship. Checks will be distributed at the WCSA Awards Dinner, or by mail.

To apply, please identify your career status and write a brief narrative (500 words) describing how your work contributes to the field. Please send your application, including contact information, as a pdf to terry.easton@ung.edu by April 30, 2019. Award notifications will be sent in early June.
